More Than Thirty Warrants Issued For Alleged Night Riders.

MANY ARRESTS MADE.

Interest Now Focused On Eddyville and Lyon County.

Crittenden county officers got busy Monday and as a result of the investigation of night riding in that county, 33 warrants were issued at Marion. The first one to be taken in was Alonzo Grey. He was held under a bond of $2000, which he failed to give and was placed in jail. Soldiers were sent to Lyon and Caldwell counties and Tuesday was spent in rounding up the accused parties. At Princeton thirteen were arrested. Four of them, William Tandy, Richard Pool, John Turner and J. B. Malone, are defendants in the Hollowell cases.

The others arrested were Roy Merrick, Ott Brown, Herbert Coleman, Robt. Oliver, Bob Oliver, Jr., Roger Tandy, James Tandy, Vilas Mitchell and Guy Satterfield. They asked to be allowed to make bond at Princeton, but this was denied and they were taken to Marion.

On the arrival of the train the defendants, accompanied by Ward Headley, of Princeton, their attorney, appeared before Judge Walter Blackburn. The trials were set for May 15, and the bond of each man was put at $1,000 in each case, some of them being accused of being in both the Cardin factory raid at View, and also the Bennett Bros' raid at Dycusburg, in which Henry Bennett and W. B. Groves were whipped.

Information has reached here that six more arrests have been made in Lyon county and that the prisoners will arrive on the 10:13 o'clock train from Kuttawa.

Great excitement prevails, but public sentiment favors the efforts being made by the officers to enforce the law.

Capt. J. L. Givens and thirteen soldiers of the Middleboro Company went west again Tuesday, taking with them 27 horses for cavalry service in the river counties in the night rider campaign. They will operate in Calloway, Lyon, Trigg and Caldwell counties. Gen. Williams was at Princeton Tuesday.

Night riders Sunday night destroyed the tobacco plant beds of F. O. Fisher, a prominent farmer of Friedberg, in Davidson county, N. C. This is the first time that night riders have operated in that section.

There was a terrific and prolonged wind, thunder and rain storm at two o'clock Tuesday morning, that lasted for more than an hour. The rainfall filled all streams to the banks and Dry Branch was so swollen that it almost stopped travel on Seventh street. The rainfall was 1.7 inches. Tenth street was again flooded, showing the urgent need of the sewer to be built. In the country the constant rains are damaging wheat crops and greatly retarding the planting of corn. Much plowing is yet to be done.

Wisconsin's Fighting Senator

La Follette, a Presidential Candidate, Who Has Stirred Up the Public Conscience and Means Business—Resolute Foe of Trusts and Political Grafting. Brainy Orator and No Trifler.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

IF the American people are looking for a man who will not only carry out the Roosevelt policies, but will go the wilder of the big stick one better, they can find the man in Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin. La Follette has been fighting the railroads, the political bosses and the corporation tax dodgers for more than fifteen years. He is an ardent advocate of all the president's measures and some others. He kept fighting until he whipped the trusts, the grafters and the political corruptionists in Wisconsin, and his friends think he has the ability and the staying power to repeat the performance in the nation.

La Follette is of presidential size even though he is only five feet four. Any man who can tie himself to a great principle and remain there for a lifetime has in him the stuff of which leaders are made. No man is fit to lead others until he himself can follow truth. The idea for which the Wisconsin man has stood is that of taking the government out of the hands of the selfish interests that have seized it and of placing it again in the hands of the people, where it belongs. He has dared to stand for that idea unswervingly, to advocate it by voice and by act, and when the American people get ready to scourge the thieves from the temple and to reclaim their rights they will not forget men like La Follette.

If the voters of this country will that produced a Coligny in the old world, and that gave so many sturdy pioneers to the new. Young La Follette spent his boyhood on a farm, but entered college in 1874. As his father was dead and his mother in comparative poverty, this was no easy task. The problem was solved in a characteristic manner. Taking all the money he could scrape together, the young man bought the college paper, which then was not paying. To it he devoted so much energy and ability that he made it carry him through a four years' course and keep his mother and family besides. Despite all the time he devoted to the paper, he kept up in his studies and won the championship in an interstate oratorical contest.

Did Much In Four Years.

The same determination which enabled the man to make assault after assault until he finally defeated the railroads and the machine in Wisconsin rendered it possible for the boy to make his way, keep his mother, edit a paper, carry on his studies and win a college, state and interstate oratorical championship all in the brief space of four years. The world presents a formidable front to all its conquerors. Robert M. La Follette armored himself with will and overcame it in many battles.

No sooner was La Follette admitted to the bar than he was elected district attorney of Dane county, a position which he held four years, after which he went to congress, where he served five neglected and dissipated, he faced a future that was anything but rosy. His enemies, with the hope of getting him out of the state, offered him a flattering appointment in the treasury department at Washington. Most men would have jumped at the offer. He did not. He took a fresh grip and continued the fight. To overcome disease he went through a course of physical exercises. To mend his business prospects and to get out of debt he devoted himself with redoubled energy to the law. As for the political end of the battle, he organized his forces for victory in 1890. And he won.

In the life of most men comes some crucial point where they have absolute freedom to choose for better or worse. That choice determines their whole after lives. Had Robert M. La Follette yielded to temptation and accepted the appointment offered him by his enemies he probably never would have been heard of again in politics, at least not in reform politics. He was strong enough to resist, and from that very hour his prospects began to mend. He was prepared to win the battle with his enemies because he had won the battle with himself.

In 1890 he was nominated and elected governor of Wisconsin. The victory was only personal, however. The lobby again succeeded in defeating his principles in the legislature. He reversed the fight, ran again for governor, was elected and won the enactment of part of his platform. Still he was not satisfied, but ran a third time for the governorship.

This time he notified the reactionaries that he would fight to the last ditch for all his principles, the three most important of which were a state primary law, equal taxation and a railroad rate bill. His enemies raised against him the third term cry and massed a formidable opposition, led by the two United States senators, most of the congressmen and all the railroads and other corporations in the state. When the little fighter won over all of them the opposition belated, held another state convention, elected a contesting delegation to the national convention and nominated a state ticket.

Crowning Triumph of His Career.

The succeeding fight was the hottest in the history of Wisconsin politics. The two senators, of whom the redoubtable Spooner was one, were strong enough to have the La Follette delegation thrown out of the national convention. He went back to Wisconsin, began a vigorous campaign, won his case in the courts for the legality of his ticket and was elected over all competitors by an overwhelming plurality. It was the crowning triumph of his career. He was then chosen to the senate, but refused to resign as governor until all of his measures had been enacted into law. The fight had been going on for more than ten years, but he had won at every point. With the signing of the bill that completed his legislative programme he laid down the reins as governor of Wisconsin and began his career as United States senator.

As might have been expected, La Follette was not welcome to the reigning "inner circle" of the upper house. The senators from the coal companies, the railroads, the trusts and the special interests had little use for one from the plain people.

Declined to Be a Wallflower.

The new man made his presence felt, however, from the first. He declined to be a wallflower. He had no respect for the precedent that made a new senator serve two years before he could begin representing his people. He had not been in his seat long before he prevented the steal of millions of dollars' worth of government coal lands by the railroads in Indiana Territory. He began almost at once fighting for an employers' liability act, shorter hours for railway employees and physical valuation of railroads to get rid of the national stock fraud. He also lent vigorous support to the rate bill, his speech being pronounced by students the ablest of the session. He attacked the railway mail graft. Despite the attempts of the corporation attorneys in the senate to haze him, he went his way and did his work. He showed himself infinitely larger than all the tribe of those who pretend to serve the people while hiring themselves to the people's enemies.

It is a matter for supreme thanksgiving that at last the American people are learning their true friends. They are seeing through the masks of those who pretend to serve public good, but in reality serve only private greed. They have seen enough insurance crookedness, railroad favoritism, bribery, double dealing and jockey legislation to put them on their guard forevermore against the industrial pirates and the political grafters. It is men such as La Follette who have done their part toward awakening the public conscience.

Robert M. La Follette is one of the great orators now before the public. While he has grace of delivery and uses the choicest language, he is little given to classic allusion, byplay or ornamentation. He has a keen sense of humor, but uses it sparingly or not at all on the platform. He is all business there, talks directly and simply to his audience and makes appeal only to their intelligence and love of right and fair play. His power lies in the fact that he knows what he is talking about and is not trifling. It was orators only knew it, these are the qualities that win men everywhere.

In the case of a candidacy like that of La Follette it is not a question of his being big enough for the presidency, but rather one of the ability of the American people to come to his standard. It is not he that is on trial, but the public. Are they big enough to take lessons from all the notions and take real men who mean business?

Refused a Flattering Offer.

La Follette was now at about the lowest point in his career. Bick, defeated, in debt and with his law pracelect to the presidency a servant of the selfish interests rather than one of their own tried and true friends, they need expect nothing better than a continuation of corporation rule and robbery.

Worked For the People.

If they desire, however, the services of one who will work for them rather than for their enemies, why not take one who has worked for them and against their enemies in the past?

The representatives of predatory interests in the United States senate tried to hase La Follette. That should be a very high recommendation for him in the eyes of the honest people of the land. The surest sign of a man's political virtue is to have a hue and cry raised against him by the "preds." That name of "pred," which I believe to be original, is submitted as a proper designation for those who desert their country to serve the trusts. It is a shorter and not so ugly a word as traitor or renegade, appellations which are liable to come into use unless some more polite substitute of this sort is adopted. "Pred" could be made to apply both to the trust and the trust agent, to the briber, the bribed and the "yellow dog" go-between. The big criminal who manages to keep out of jail, the grafter who poses as respectable, the lobbyist who pretends to be an attorney and the machine boss who serves his own pocket could all be known as "preds." The name, like charity, would thus cover many sins.

Senator La Follette's life has been devoted to a battle with the "preds." They have learned to hate him because he whips them. When the trust organs adopt an indignant and tolerant attitude toward a reformer you may be sure it is because they can either buy him or beat him. They can do neither with La Follette, hence the vituperation.

Robert Marion La Follette was born near Madison, Wis., in 1855. He comes from the French Huguenots, the sect

He says the purpose of the company is to withdraw from Kentucky altogether as a purchaser of leaf tobacco.

Following close upon the killing of Jim Hargis by his son, comes the news that former sheriff Ed Callahan, Hargis' man Friday, has been slain by his brother-in-law. A coincidence is that Callahan met his fate just five years to the day from the date of Jas. B. Marcum's murder by the Hargis-Callahan gang. It may also be noted that three men were killed and another wounded in Breathitt county Monday, in spite of the recent resolutions adopted by a mass meeting in Jackson, claiming that while Breathitt county was a model of peacefulness, Western Kentucky was overrun by bands of outlaws.

HIT WITH A ROCK.

Mr. W. E. Adcock, of Church Hill, was struck on the left leg with a rock, while in the city. Monday and painfully but not seriously injured. Mr. Adcock was in his buggy driving near the corner of Eighth and Virginia streets and came upon two negroes who were in a scrap. One of the negroes threw a rock at the other and the latter ducked. The stone passed over his head and hit Mr. Adcock squarely on his limb. The skin was broken and the wound bled pretty freely. The leg was also considerably bruised by the blow. He failed to recognize either of the combatants.

STANLEY'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

Mr. Stanley, having been notified of his nomination by the Democrats for the Sixty-first Congress, feelingly expressed his appreciation of the honor in the following brief and timely speech:

"It affords me the most profound gratification to accept this nomination tendered under circumstances that fill me with a sense both of gratitude and of my unworthiness. To have been the first man in this great district—so often represented by such illustrious Democrats—to receive a fourth nomination is an honor which any man might covet, and which I shall humbly endeavor to deserve.

"I do not regard this nomination so much as an evidence of any personal preference for me, or of any unusual worth on my part, as an appreciation on the part of the people that continual service renders the incumbent more capable of faithfully discharging the onerous duties imposed upon him. The States of the East and South have long since established the custom of returning their Representatives to Congress. The failure of the Second Kentucky District, and of other districts in Kentucky to observe this custom has deprived them of the service of many distinguished representatives.

"I feel that however unworthy I may be at the present time, and it is with a profound sense of my limitations that I acknowledge my unworthiness, I am infinitely better suited to serve the Democracy and the people of this district than when first elected to this office, and I pledge to them now as an earnest of my appreciation of and of an honor so often conferred, and that without opposition, my earnest, devout and tireless efforts in their behalf."

FARMERS MEET AT PEMBROKE

Speakers From Other States Take Part in Discussion.

ATTENDANCE WAS GOOD

Other Institute Work Laid Out For the Summer Months.

The Pembroke Farmers' Institute began Tuesday and was well attended in spite of the threatening weather. President Chas. E. Barker presided and among those who made speeches were C. D. Lyon, Georgetown, Ohio; A. D. Shamel, Washington, D. C.; M. C. Hanna, Shelbyville, Ky., and Jos. E. Wing, Mechanicsburg, O.

President Barker entertained the club and its guests at a big barbecue at his farm, near Pembroke.

Yesterday, with more favorable weather, the crowd was much larger. Messrs. Lyon and Wing again discussed one or more subjects and speeches were also made by R. F. Danley, of Bowling Green, Ky.; Hon. W. C. Cook, W. H. Strange, Jeff J. Garrett and J. B. Walker. Mr. Walker discussed Clover and was followed by Mr. Wing on Alfalfa. The meeting was productive of much good.

The new Commissioner of Agriculture, Hon. M. C. Rankin, made a most favorable impression on all who met him.

Summer Institutes.

Mr. Rankin has appointed Mr. J. B. Walker director for the third agricultural district and he will hold institutes as follows: Eddyville, August 11-12; Princeton, August 14-15; Cadiz, August 18-19; Hopkinsville, August 21-22; Guthrie, August 25-26; Adairville, August 28-29; Central City, October 6-7; Robard, October 27-28; Hansom, November 3-4.

PEMBROKE EXCHANGE.

The Home Telephone's exchange at Pembroke has been open for business since May 1st and local subscribers can now talk to Pembroke subscribers over the new line. The exchange starts out with a good number of patrons.

HE IS KEPT THERE.

For the fourth time the Hon. Augustus Owsley Stanley is the Democratic nominee for Congress from this, the Second district. It is his third nomination without opposition. The committee meeting Monday was well attended, seven being present in person, and one by proxy. He was formally declared the nominee, and his election in November is as certain as that the sun rises in the East and sets in the West.

It is an unusual honor, and is the first time that it has ever occurred in this district. The fact that a Congressman only serves a two-year term calls for his re-election to successive terms, if he is a good man, and has served his constituency faithfully. This Mr. Stanley has done, though a disgruntled few may disagree with the assertion.

When he has served his fourth and ensuing term he will have served only eight years, while most officers that require less preparation and ability are held for four years and endorsed for four more years. This is but a reiteration of an editorial in the Gleaner some two or three years ago, entitled "Keep Him There," and we stand by that slogan as then written.

The present Democratic nominee for Congress has ably served his district, and has made a national reputation of which his home people should feel proud.

He is always found on the firing line in behalf of the Democratic principles, and has always lifted his voice and directed his efforts in behalf of the toiler. He is the recognized spokesman for the tobacco growers on the floor of the house. By strenuous effort and energetic labor he has won his way, and is recognized by the leaders of both parties at Washington as a man possessed of the qualities which go to make up the stuff that eminent men are made of.

His head is not swelled, and here at home he belongs to the "ragged brigade." Again we say, "Keep Him There."—Henderson Daily Gleaner.

PE-RU-NA AS A TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

Mrs. Paul Casavant Writes From 219 Monroe Street, Topeka, Kansas, Concerning Peruna. Read Her Letter Below:

In Spring and Early Summer a Tonic is Needed.

The source of good blood is fresh air and well-digested food. If anything interferes with digestion the blood becomes impure. A catarrhal condition of the stomach prevents perfect digestion. Such a condition allows the food to ferment and decompose in various ways, instead of digesting. The blood is thus contaminated with various materials that do not belong in the blood. This gives rise to spring fever, eruptions on the skin, general lassitude and constipation. Peruna corrects all these difficulties by striking at the source of them. By eradicating the catarrhal condition of the stomach Peruna at once restores digestion, the blood is thereby purified, and the whole machinery of the body is put in working order. Peruna has probably made a more remarkable record in cases of catarrh of the stomach than any other medicine. These cases are very frequent, and we have a host of testimonials in which Peruna has received lavish praise for prompt and permanent relief in cases of catarrh of the stomach.

Mrs. Emily Kellogg, 5649 S. Lawrence St., South Tacoma, Wash., Gives Her Experience With Peruna. Read Her Letter Below:

MRS. PAUL CASAVANT.
Kansas, writes:
"I have found Peruna very effective in restoring my health and strength after I had been worn out and run down for a long time. I began to use it about six months ago when I was unable to leave my bed. My nervous system was shattered and I was daily losing flesh and strength. This condition was completely altered after a few bottles of Peruna had been used and I kept on using it until I was finally restored to perfect health and had gained about fifteen pounds.
"I feel so grateful for what your medicine has done for me that I am pleased to give it my hearty endorsement and shall always be glad to speak a good word for it."

MR. CALEB H. BORTLE.
Md., writes:
"For several years I was troubled with catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. Many times I would vomit before and after eating.
"I took seven bottles of your Peruna, and I am glad to say that it has cured me.
"I feel more like living and working, and am not bothered at all with my old troubles.
"I take great pleasure in recommending Peruna to all sufferers with catarrh, and I thank you for what you have done for me, for none but those who have suffered as I have can appreciate a great cure as I have found Peruna to be."

MR. WILLIAM HOGE.
Broadway, New York, N. Y., writes:
"I endorse Peruna as the most effective remedy for catarrh I have been able to find in this country or Europe. I can truly say that I have spent thousands of dollars in this country alone trying to find a cure, and it was not until I was induced to give Peruna a trial that I obtained anything like permanent relief. As a tonic it is simply great. It brought to me the grip of every commercial traveler on the road. It cured my wife as well as myself. We have not had the slightest symptom of catarrh for a long time."
In a later letter Mr. Hoge says:—"I have used Peruna for many years, never without a bottle in my grip. I am the youngest feeling and youngest looking man of my age in New York, which I think is entirely due to Peruna."

MRS. EMILY KELLOGG.
Tacoma, Wash., member of Ladies of the Moose, writes:
"Three months ago I had an attack of biliousness which threatened to undermine my health and strength. Luckily for me, I tried Peruna at the suggestion of my friends before it was too late. I found in a few days' time that I did not have the usual sick headache, neither did food nauseate me any longer. In two weeks' time Peruna had completely rid my system of the poison and bile, and I was in a much better condition. My skin assumed its normal color, I had a splendid appetite and I was in every way improved in health. I used Peruna for a month longer and it wrought a wonderful change in my entire system."

Tones up the System.

Mrs. William McRoberts, Waverly, Minn., writes:
"I am perfectly well of the catarrh. I took Peruna and Manalin. I recommend your medicine to every one and cannot praise it enough. It is a fine medicine to take any season of the year. It is in the spring it tones up the system and acts as a gentle stimulant."

A Good Tonic.

Mr. Joe Leonard, Flat 3, 222 Allen St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:
"I have good reason to endorse Peruna as I have found it a good tonic, stimulating the system and sustaining it under great pressure, imparting unusual endurance and enabling me to work much longer and harder than the system could possibly do were it not for the great powers with which it endowed me. It gives one nerves of iron."

Mr. Caleb H. Bortell, Police Officer, 212 North Paca street, Baltimore, Md., writes:
"For several years I was troubled with catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. Many times I would vomit before and after eating.
"I took seven bottles of your Peruna, and I am glad to say that it has cured me.
"I feel more like living and working, and am not bothered at all with my old troubles.
"I take great pleasure in recommending Peruna to all sufferers with catarrh, and I thank you for what you have done for me, for none but those who have suffered as I have can appreciate a great cure as I have found Peruna to be."

Splendid for La Grippe.

Mr. Frank H. Fielder, 212 S. Cassant Ave., Montgomery, Ala., formerly principal of Haynesville High School, writes:
"I can truthfully say that Peruna is a splendid remedy for la grippe, and a good tonic for building up the system."

Pain in Chest.

Mrs. A. W. Gustin, 6220 Lake Ave., St. Joseph, Mo., writes:
"When I began taking Peruna I had quite a severe pain and ache in the left of my chest. I suffered a great deal with it.
"I wrote to Dr. Hartman and asked him what I should do. He advised my

Mr. William Hoge, President Commercial Travelers Association, 280 Broadway, New York, N. Y., writes:
"I endorse Peruna as the most effective remedy for catarrh I have been able to find in this country or Europe. I can truly say that I have spent thousands of dollars in this country alone trying to find a cure, and it was not until I was induced to give Peruna a trial that I obtained anything like permanent relief. In a later letter Mr. Hoge says:—"I have used Peruna for many years, never without a bottle in my grip. I am the youngest feeling and youngest looking man of my age in New York, which I think is entirely due to Peruna."

Hay Fever and Catarrh.

Mrs. Mayme E. Smith, 444 East Mead St., Columbus, Ohio, writes:
"I have used Peruna for catarrh and hay fever. The results being remarkable, I can highly recommend it to all who are suffering with the above diseases. I am happy to be able to say it has helped me wonderfully."

Eyes Red and Watery.

Mr. William S. Hearn, 1023 Segal St., Camden, N. J., writes:
"For about two years I was troubled with my eyes being red and watery, and my general health was very poor. Finally a friend advised me to try Peruna. I had tried almost everything else, so I purchased a bottle of Peruna and commenced to take it at once, and before I had finished the first bottle I found I was improving.

"I wrote you for special advice concerning my eyes, which I received. I continued to take the Peruna until I had used six bottles.
"Now my eyes are absolutely well, and I feel like a new man every day. I honestly advise any one similarly afflicted to try Peruna."

Peruna Tablets.
Some people prefer to take tablets, rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peruna tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

NIGHT RIDER NEWS.

for thirty-two other men charged with night riding were issued at Marion, Crittenden county. The militia has been called out and intense excitement prevails. Grey's home is at Rinaldo, Lyon county.

Twenty-five masked men visited the home of John Sanders, at Wellsburg, Bracken county, Sunday night and compelled him to dig up his tobacco beds on the pain of death. When the beds were destroyed the riders whipped Sanders until the blood flowed from his wounds. They also visited the home of Nelson Cummings and shot out his windows when he refused to come out. F. M. Crawford and Leopold Bay, in the same vicinity, were called out and threatened with bodily harm if they attempted to raise tobacco this year.

A stable and barn on the farm of Henry Wall, ten miles from Clarksville, were set on fire Saturday night and destroyed, together with their contents and a large amount of hay, corn, farming implements and fertilizer.

The telephone wires were cut between Clarksville and Fredonia and between Fredonia and Hickory Point, to prevent parties from being notified of the fire, supposed to have been the work of night riders.

Henry Wall is a non-association farmer, and brother of W. E. Wall, who was almost ruined by the work of the night riders, losing a general merchandise store, barns, stable and tobacco plants.

Twenty members of Company G, Danville, were ordered on duty Tuesday. They were mounted and left under sealed orders, going in the direction of Harrodsburg. It is presumed they are out on night-riding service.

Night riders in Bracken county Monday night—35 in the band—took Henry Gross from his house near Augusta and beat him on his bare back with a blacksnake whip, ordered him to tear up his tobacco bed and quit talking. They then visited his father, George Gross, and ordered him not to raise a crop.

Hollowell Trial.

Paducah, Ky., May 6—United States Marshal George W. Long, of Louisville, has summoned by mail the jurors for the Hollowell case, which will come up in the United States court here next Monday. The list is in possession of the Marshal, hence none of the names are known here, and will not be given out until court convenes. The jurors are said to be prominent men of another section of the State who have no connection with the tobacco war.

Prof. Wm. A. Evans, who as one of the teachers in the High School, has made such a splendid record during the year he has been here, is to leave Hopkinsville to the profound regret of patrons of the High School and of the pupils themselves. No teacher in the schools has ever made a more creditable record in one year, or exercised a more wholesome influence over the pupils, boys especially, in the High School. He has developed athletics, ruled by kindness and installed into the larger boys a fondness for their school work that has been remarkable. That he is to leave this work is a serious blow to the schools. Some time ago Prof. Evans was offered a place in the Paducah High School, but the board here heard of it and raised his salary $200 and assured him of a re-election. For some reason the board at its last meeting, by a close vote, reconsidered the matter and left it open for further consideration. Prof. Evans therefore made application at Paducah and Tuesday night was unanimously elected to teach Science and lead the boys in athletics and assist in literary work. He has accepted the place, the salary being the same that he had agreed to accept here. Even yet, the board should endeavor to induce Prof. Evans to remain, in view of the fact that another of the best teachers in the schools has already resigned. Prof. Evans has "made good" here and Paducah should not be allowed to take from us a teacher whose place cannot be easily filled.

Prof. Evans has other offers besides the one at Paducah. The services of good men are always in demand.

INCREASE IN TAX FIGURES

Panic Has Not Stopped the Growth of Hopkinsville.

ASSESSMENT $3,600,000.

Tithes and School Children Also Show Substantial Increase.

City Assessor Leslie Haydon and his deputy, Miss Fannie Haydon, have finished the compilation of the figures of the assessment for 1908. The total assessment will be about $3,600,000, an increase of about $60,000 over 1907. The itemized comparison is as follows:

	1908	1907
Real Est., White	$2,145,580	$2,085,585
Personality	1,187,469	1,285,675
Lists incomplete	100,000
Real Est., Col.	166,405	162,990
Personality	6,680	6,685

Total $3,606,134 $3,540,845
The lists are yet to be gone over by the Board of Supervisors, who will meet on Thursday, May 14.

The tithes show a still larger increase. There are 1371 whites and 1067 colored, as compared with 1283 whites and 874 colored in 1907. This increase is largely due to the increase in the colored registration last fall, when many negroes were located who had not been paying taxes.

INCREASE OF 57

George Bradley has completed the census of school children for the white public schools of the city and the total is 714 males and 732 females, making 1,446 as against 1,389 last year. This is an increase of about four per cent., which is a good showing, everything considered.

FINE STORY OF SIC. CREATORE

Carries Two Alarm Clocks So That He Will Be Surely Aroused.

The recent tour of Creatore and his band in England was marked by numerous amusing incidents. One of these occurred in the city of Hanley in the North country, where the band played a concert. The train carrying the organization arrived late in the day, and the hour of departure next morning being rather early, Signor Creatore selected the hotel nearest the depot as being the most convenient in which to stop.

It is his custom to carry two alarm clocks when traveling, one of which he sets so as to ring fifteen minutes after the first arouses him. He follows this plan so as to prevent him relapsing into slumber after the first and to relieve him, besides of the worry attendant on depending on the bell boy.

On this occasion he arose when the first alarm rang, and in a few minutes went down to the office to pay his bill. No one was on duty and the stillness of deep slumber pervaded the hotel.

He rapped on the counter and at several doors, but there was no response. Then he discovered that the doors of the hotel were locked. Looking at his watch nervously he saw that it was close to train time. Something must be done, the perplexed bandmaster said to himself in a crescendo of determination. At that moment he discovered the large hotel gong hanging near.

Seizing it as a heaven sent instrument he beat a solo that would have shamed the combined sounds of the entire tympanies of his band in the most strenuous passage.

The effect was electrical in its results, as are the finest climaxes to his audiences. Where a second before there was quiet and lack of life that nerved him to desperation, the hotel was now filled with a babel of women's screams, the hoarse shouts of men, the clashing of doors and the sound of rushing of feet. Down the stairs trooped the guests wild-eyed and disheveled, some partly dressed and most of them in the scantiest of attire.

Creatore's efforts on the gong had been taken for a fire alarm. In the confusion the doors were unlocked and the excited Maestro caught the train.

After this experience Creatore took the precaution to inquire as to the hours of opening and closing the houses in which he stopped and in addition settled his bill the night before leaving, for in the excitement and suddenness of his arousal of the employees and guests at the hotel in Hanley he forgot to pay his host for his entertainment and had the bother of remitting from the city he played in the following day.

CRUISER BLOWN UP

Explosion on Japanese Train-

Tokio, May 3.—An explosion occurred in the stock magazine of the cruiser Matsushima while anchoring at Makang, a harbor on the Pescadore Islands. The Matsushima immediately sunk until only the bridge was visible. The sons of Baron Childer, vice minister of the foreign office, and of Prince Oyama, field marshal, are among the cadets who, it is feared, are lost; also Captains Name, Yoshimori and Yoshino.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. The regular complement of the sunken vessel was 355 men, and on her cruise she had about fifty cadets aboard, making a total of 415. About 175 were saved, which would make the loss of officers and men about 240.

Do Not Endanger Life
When a Cure May Be Had

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in.

Leslie K. Hickman, living on Arch street, Madisonville, Ky. says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I tested their merits about three months ago and the results could have been more satisfactory. I had pain through the small of my back directly over the kidneys which caused me considerable annoyance. Stopping or straining caused sharp twinges to catch me in the kidneys. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box. I noticed a decided improvement from the use of this box, and continued taking them, using a second box, completely curing me. I have every confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills and cheerfully give them my recommendation."

WOMEN AT THE STATE FAIR

Big Tennessee Exposition Will Be a Rich Source of Valuable Information.

Nashville, Tenn., May 6.—In its plans for the Tennessee State Fair the Association has always been careful to give the women from the farm, the cities and the towns full consideration, and when the exhibition opens September 21 it will have a great many features of material interest to this fair element.

In the securing of Mrs. E. W. Foster to direct the work of this department the association has selected a woman peculiarly fitted to make the exhibits in the Woman's Building of the greatest possible benefit to the thousands of women who will attend the Fair.

The farm women of Tennessee find the Fair a rich source of information and through their close observation they have gathered a great fund of ideas to take home and apply to their own affairs. Many of the herds and flocks and poultry and dairy products and field crops of Tennessee and nearby states have been improved a great deal by reason of the large attendance of women at the last two State Fairs.

Realizing the good effect this has on the prosperity of the State, the management of the Fair, besides encouraging women to take advantage of all the other features, has from the first provided a special department where the women may show what they have accomplished in their varied lines of endeavor. With Mrs. Foster in charge of the work, the success of this feature of the 1908 Fair is assured.

DOUBLE BILL

To Be Presented By the High School Pupils.

TABERNACLE FRIDAY

Proceeds to Be Given to Fund For Decorating Chapel.

The entertainment to be given by the High School Friday night is for the purpose of getting funds to decorate the new chapel. The chapel has been in use but one year. That year has been sufficient to show its great advantages. Still its advantages can be increased a great deal. The chapel walls are bare of all decoration. If it were hung with copies of the old masters, it would be a delightful place. The funds from this entertainment are for this purpose.

The junior girls' play "A Box of Monkeys," is a repetition of the play given a week ago. Those who take part are Mary Crenshaw, Mary Tandy, Norah Higgins, Carrie Bidle and Ella Smithson. The play as given was a great success. The reproduction will be better still.

"Hamlet" had married Juliet, and Romeo had wedded to Ophelia, all would have lived happily ever afterwards, "is the theme of the boys' play. They have been working long and hard, and under the efficient coaching of Mrs. Blakemore, they have learned their parts perfectly. It has been very kind in Mrs. Blakemore to give her time in this work. It shows a wholesome interest in the schools. If more patrons would take the same interest and so evidently manifest it, the schools would be better and the teachers more enthusiastic.

John Petrie will portray "The Beautiful Juliet," "Ophelia" will be resplendent in Chas. Meacham; Tom Smith as "Queen of Denmark" is gorgeous; Jim Brathitt has no peer in rendering "Hamlet," "the elegant Lady Montague" is the part of Caldwell Feland, and Summers Cooper makes Romeo live again.

A large crowd is expected. Any High School pupil can procure your tickets. They are also on sale at the Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated. Admission 15c and 25c.
